11. ORCID iD and ResearcherID

We (NIMS) use ORCID iD and/or ResearcherID to check applicant's publications and citation counts for each paper. Please enter your ID numbers.

If you have no ID number, create one or more at the following websites. Also, link the ID to your articles.

ORCID iD (<https://orcid.org/>) _____

ResearcherID (<https://www.researcherid.com/>) _____

12. Declaration by applicant:

I declare that the information provided in this application is true and correct, and contains no research fraud in any part. Research fraud shall mean any fraud, falsification, and/or theft in the stated research achievements or future objectives. Honest errors and differences of opinion are not considered research fraud. I also declare that there is no intentional multiple submission and no inappropriate authorship in the publication list.

If the written information on the resume is incorrect or if information has been omitted, I accept the cancellation of employment.

13. Reference check

Do you authorize us to contact your current employer and/or former one for the purpose of a reference check (work behavior, reason(s) of resignation, health condition)?

Please check the appropriate box (☒).

Yes

No

14. History of applications

Have you ever applied for a permanent position at NIMS recently? Please check the appropriate box (☒).

Yes, I applied for a position in 2021, 2022, 2023.

No, this is my first application.

15. English level check

NIMS requests applicants* to take an English language qualification test, e.g., TOEIC, EIKEN(英検), TOEFL, IELTS, in advance. Please enter your score of the English language qualification test.

* Except for applicants who give a presentation in English at the interview.

* 基本的に、日本語を母語とする方は日本語でプレゼンテーションを行っていただきますので、証明書の提出が必須です。

Name of the English language qualification test: _____

Score (or level): _____ Year: _____

This recruitment is open to the applicants in any areas of materials science. However, NIMS is currently focusing on the following 10 research areas, and we welcome applicants who specialize in these areas.

Check one of the most suitable areas only if your research is relevant to one of them. (If not, check-mark at the other areas.)

- (1) Hydrogen-related materials
- (2) Battery materials
- (3) Quantum materials
- (4) Semiconducting materials
- (5) Artificial intelligence materials
- (6) Metal and inorganic materials
- (7) Organic materials
- (8) Biomaterials
- (9) Data-driven materials development
- (10) Advanced materials analysis technology
- Other areas in Materials Science

18. Special invitation to ICYS

NIMS will prioritize the recruitment of potential promising young scientists. Even for applicants rejected in the screening of the tenure position, if the person is recognized as an excellent young researcher promising in the future, NIMS can assign her/him to ICYS Research Fellow position, with exemption of original screening process by ICYS. Only the person who passed to be the ICYS Research Fellow will be notified.

After gaining experience at ICYS program, it is possible to challenge again examination of a permanent researcher position. So far, many ICYS Research Fellows have gotten a NIMS permanent position after the ICYS program. See a track record at <https://www.nims.go.jp/icys/recruitment/index.html>.

Enter the below check box, if you agree with the special invitation to ICYS in the case that you are rejected in the screening of the permanent position.

- I hope to be hired as a ICYS Research Fellow, if NIMS invites me.

19. Multiple applications

In addition to R24-02 (Materials Science (for women)), you may also apply to R24-03 ~ R24-11 in duplicate, if both of your research accomplishments and research plan at NIMS are consistent with those of R24-03 ~ R24-11.

- I only apply for R24-02 Materials Science (for women).

R24-02 is prioritized as my first application. However, I will also apply for

- R24-03 Materials & Characterization Techniques for Electrochemical Devices*
- R24-04 Magnetic Refrigeration System*
- R24-05 Development of Circular Materials*
- R24-06 Metal Additive Manufacturing*
- R24-07 Semiconductor Devices for Next Generation*
- R24-08 Neuromorphic Devices*
- R24-09 Advanced Photoemission Spectroscopy*
- R24-10 Synchrotron Radiation Imaging*
- R24-11 Computational Materials Design with Simulations and Data-driven Science*

as the second choice.

[Application checklist]

Please be sure to check (☒) the following and provide the required information before submission.

- Curriculum Vitae (this form)
- Application form (After filling out the application form, convert to a PDF file)
- The number of publications (After filling out the Excel file, convert to a PDF file)
- PDF copies of representative papers (up to three)
- Certification of English language qualification test (if required)
- I have arranged for the two references to submit the letters of recommendation to recommend@nims.go.jp.
